It Would Take Crust

Ohio voters left no room for doubt when they piled up a quarter of a million votes to spare for the office-type ballot proposal last Tuesday. They want this election reform. They want to put a crimp in the arrogant style of the political bosses who opposed it because it would confuse machine voters who have just sense enough to mark an X under the party symbol and no more. The voters didn't mean maybe; they meant they were ready for ballot reform.

It would take crust to try to undo their decision. But there is no shortage of crust in the places where the decision is unpopular. There is a frantic hunt for legal loopholes and hairs to split. If it can be arranged, the people's decision on the office-type ballot will be set aside by legalistic mumbo-jumbo. And if it is arranged, political decency in Ohio will have hit an all-time low.

There was no doubt in the minds of a majority of Ohioans at the polls on election day about the meaning of the office-type ballot issue. They were in favor of it. The mere fact that some of them didn't vote on the issue has no conceivable bearing on what was decided by those who did vote on it.

Better Buy Two-Way Tickets

It's beginning to look as if extra trains, planes and buses would be needed to handle all the tourists who will visit Ohio to add their two bits' worth to the anti-Taft crusade before next year's election.

They will be flocking in from New York City, Chicago, Detroit, the Far West and the Deep South. Whole platoons will come to the state in a body from Washington, D. C. Commies out on bail will be joined by ward heelers in on a shoestring. It will be the biggest movement in this direction since the northwest territory was settled.

Native Ohioans are in some danger of being trampled underfoot by the outsiders who have signified in one way or another that they intend to take a hand in the great crusade to get Ohio's senior senator out of their long hair. But the danger is not acute—for this special reason.

Ohio is a hospitable state, as such things go—not over-friendly but reasonably warm-hearted toward strangers who visit it in good faith. It so happens, however, that Ohioans take a dim view of visitors who have axes to grind—or butcher knives or sickles. And that has special application to visitors who presume to tell Ohioans how to vote.

Just as a travel hint, the tourists planning to flock into Ohio to help native Ohioans make up their minds about Robert A. Taft had better buy round-trip tickets. They don't like it in this state—not when it becomes known they're here to nib into a state political issue—Senator Taft vs. the masked marvel in the senatorial election of 1950.

They Asked For It

Republicans took a terrific pasting in New York state Tuesday. They probably lost more face than they deserved to lose, because they were attempting the impossible. But they asked to be judged on the outcome of the vote, and that's the way it will be.

John Foster Dulles ran as well for U.S. senator as any bona-fide Republican candidates could run in New York state, which means that he won with ease outside New York City. He was snowed under, however, by the weird combination of religious, racial and ideological isms which holds the balance of power inside that great metropolis with one foot in Europe and the other on the east bank of the Hudson.

Senator Dulles made his campaign on the issue of statism. As far as winning votes in the minority which controls politics in New York city is concerned, he might as well have come out flatfooted against pan gravy. There are probably half a million New York City voters who firmly believe that statism is man's highest possible destiny.

This was a tough proposition for Dulles to beat. He was up against the Truman administration, which sent speakers to help Lehman. And he was up against the fact that he himself was no match for an old-timer, who has been up to his ears in New York politics for the last 20 years. Mr. Dulles, a rank amateur, made a better campaign than he was expected to make. He scared the Trumanites into sending in outsiders to give Lehman help. He won respect for joining the issue between the handout philosophy of the statists and the philosophy of self-reliance. But he lost.

The question is whether those who voted for Mr. Lehman won, or whether they merely voted against Mr. Dulles. But in any event, Mr. Dulles didn't win, and the Republicans who hoped he would have one more disappointment to bear more or less successfully.

Looking Backward

From The News Files

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO—Uncertainty as to the outcome of the Akron West-Salem High game at Reilly field Saturday became more apparent when news leaked out of Akron that West would take no chances and would send in the regular lineup.

The new fashion mode is dresses that masquerade as coats and coats which make earnest efforts to look like dresses. A vestee and double collars of white satin de Lyon relieve the severity of a black velvet dress following this design.

There will be a general gym rally for all women and girls of Salem at the Memorial building Monday and all sorts of games will be played.

The Jolly Jester, national health clown, will give a performance for Salem school children on behalf of Christmas seals to finance fresh air camps for undernourished children.

TEN YEARS AGO—Ohioans overwhelmingly rejected a plan to increase state pension rolls from 122,000 to 690,000 by guaranteeing income subsidies to residents over 60.

The horse is enjoying the last laugh in England as motorists turn to horse power in the flesh because of gasoline rationing.

As if Chicago doesn't have enough trouble already, it must face Ohio State Saturday without two first stringers and a second string man.

The Dean of Women of the University of Nevada has ruled that the drum majorettes' skirts must "hit the middle of the knee."

FIVE YEARS AGO—Striking by daylight, B-29 Superfortresses plastered military targets at Singapore in one of two raids yesterday by the aerial dreadnaughts. The other strike was at some Sumatra oil refineries.

Steps are being taken by the Players club for the casting of Dickens' "Christmas Carol."

Dale Carnegie, who wrote "How to Win Friends and Influence People," married his secretary yesterday.

Gene Tunney is dropping out of the Baltimore pro football setup because he now thinks the war will last a lot longer than he believed before.

ONE MAN'S OPINION

By WALTER KIERNAN

A strange case is reported in Malaya of a man who has been married 31 times in eight years and is still living.

He claims he gets a marriage and divorce complete for $3.60 . . . or this is just a trick to cut prices in Reno.

But if it is so, Malaya sounds like the place for a fellow who has $12.50 a year to plunge on excitement.

All this has been going on quietly while television has been showing us pictures of sheep-shearing in Australia.

I see J. Arthur Rank has threatened to stop making movies unless he can do as well at the box office as his government does at the tax office.

And he can be excused his resentment. . . he's not paying James Mason to look romantic for Sir Stafford Cripps.

Guarding Your Health

By DR. HERMAN BUNDESON

STIFF neck is one of the most common of the disorders affecting the muscles. It usually results from exposure to cold or a chilling wind and can sometimes be quite painful.

Recently a treatment for this condition has been suggested which seems to give prompt relief by relaxing the stiff and painful muscles. It makes use of a well-known local anesthetic called ethyl chloride (or freezing solution) spray.

Sweeping Motion

In carrying out the treatment, the ethyl chloride spray is applied with a sweeping motion to prevent extreme chilling of the muscle. Before carrying out the treatment, the muscles are felt to find just which areas are tender. Then the patient is seated in a chair, and with the ethyl chloride held one or two feet away, the stream is directed to the skin at an angle.

The direction of the sweeping motion depends upon the areas involved. For example, if the large muscle known as the trapezius is affected, the spray is directed inward and upward over the shoulder and neck. If the muscles over the upper part of the back are involved, the motion is outward and downward.

The motions are repeated for a few seconds, then stopped, and repeated for a few more seconds.

Painful Muscles

During the treatment, the painful muscles are gently stretched by light pressure against the head. Between applications, the patient moves his head and neck actively, but no movement should be carried out which causes distress. The treatment is continued until the pain and tenderness disappear. However, if the response to treatment is slow, it should not be carried on for longer than 10 to 15 minutes.

Twelve patients were treated in this way, and nine of them were relieved after one treatment. In other cases, two or three were necessary. It may be found that the treatment has to be repeated once or twice a day for several days.

If the condition is chronic, that is, if it has continued over a long period of time, the ethyl chloride is not of any great help. Here injections of a local anesthetic or pain-relieving substance into the tender areas are more likely to be of help.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

A Reader: Why is a sacro-iliac support worn?

Answer: Such a supporting belt is usually worn because of some injury or strain of the sacro-iliac joints, which are joints between the lowest part of the spine and the hip.

Roving Reports

NEW YORK

Thirty-one years ago today bloodshed ceased in the most stupendous war mankind had known.

This armistice after four years of conflict turned out to be only a pause that refreshed the world for an even deadlier war, the issues of which are still unsettled.

I can't think of anything better to present on this anniversary than the thoughts celebrated men of the past have held on war and peace. Here are a few:

"Love thy neighbor as thyself."—Jesus Christ.

"All battle is well said to be misunderstanding."—Carlyle.

"The art of war . . . I take to be the highest perfection of human knowledge."—Daniel Defoe.

"IN WAR EVENTS of importance are the result of trivial causes."—Julius Caesar.

"War is the trade of kings."—John Dryden.

"Military glory—That attractive rainbow that rises in showers of blood, that serpent's eye that charms to destroy."—Rep. Abraham Lincoln of Illinois in 1848.

"War should be the only study of a prince. He should consider peace only as a breathing time, which gives him leisure to contrive, and furnishes ability to execute, war plans."—Machiavelli.

"War, the needy bankrupt's last resort."—Nicholas Rowe.

"An Army is of little value in the field unless there are wise counsels at home."—Cicero.

"It is not by speeches and resolutions that the great questions of the time are decided . . . but by iron and blood."—Bismarck.

"Gold and riches, the chief causes of warism."—Tacitus.

"I hate war for it soils conversation."—Fontanelle.

"There is no such thing as an inevitable war. If war comes it will be from failure of human wisdom."—Ronsar Law, 1914.

"For what can war but endless war still breed?"—Milton.

"The bird of war is not the eagle but the stork."—Charles Francis Potter, birth control advocate.

"Worse than war is the fear of war."—Seneca.

"Peace shall not prevail save with a sword in her hand."—Bernard Shaw.

upon war with horror."—Gen. Sherman.

"Little reason is there in arms."—Vergil.

"It is not an army that we just train for war; it is a nation."—Woodrow Wilson.

"War is a biological necessity . . . A moral obligation . . . An indispensable factor in civilization."—Bernhardi.

"War is delightful to those who have had no experience of it."—Erasmus.

"A good war holloweth every cause. War and courage have done more great things than charity . . . War is elevating, because the individual disappears before the great conception of the state."—Neitzsche.

"He that preaches war is the devil's chaplain."—Ray.

"Mother . . . do not weep . . . War is kind."—Stephen Crane.

"The first casualty when war comes is truth."—Hiram Johnson.

"The Gods are on the side of the stronger."—Tacitus.

"There never was a good war or a bad peace."—Benjamin Franklin.

"Ye shall love peace as a means to new wars, and the short peace better than the long one."—Neitzsche.

"Love thy neighbor as thyself."—Jesus Christ.

Sebring Truckers Must Pay $36,000

CLEVELAND, Nov. 11—(AP)—The Sebring Trucking Co. of Sebring, O., must pay three Rochester, N. Y., motorists $36,000 because of injuries they received in an automobile accident Nov. 28, 1947.

This decision was handed down yesterday by a federal jury after a five day trial.

Awarded the money were Fred J. White, a Rochester used car dealer, $27,500; his wife, Mildred, $8,000; a companion, Anthony Gilardi, $500.

White was driving his party from Vandalia, Ill., in his Cadillac to Rochester. A tractor-trailer owned by Sebring Trucking smashed into the White car on the crest of a hill near Lexington, O., it was testified.

The plaintiffs contended the tractor-trailer was on the wrong side of the road as it approached the top of the hill while passing another truck.

As a result of the accident, White said he lost full use of his left arm. His wife asserted she had suffered from a nervous condition ever since. Gilardi, it was testified, was not severely hurt.

Trucking company lawyers argued the accident was part White's fault.

Krug

"very friendly," Mr. Truman was displeased at the prior announcement to the press.

Krug had nothing to say of his plans. He has an interest in a Tennessee textile mill—in an area where, 10 years ago, he was chief power engineer for the Tennessee Valley authority.

Chapman likewise had no comment. His wife said he was at his office all last evening writing an address he will give at San Francisco Sunday.

Chapman has been a member of the so-called "little cabinet" for 16½ years.

He became assistant secretary of the interior in May, 1933, under Secretary Harold L. Ickes. He served as acting secretary in the six-week interim between Ickes' resignation and Krug's appointment, and became undersecretary the day after Krug took office in March, 1946.

Homeless, Trucker Gets Police Help

Richard Spiker, former Youngstown resident, who was surprisingly acquitted by a Columbiana county common pleas jury Thursday on a manslaughter charge in connection with the death of Donna Marie Saunders, came back to the police last night seeking lodging for his wife and children.

His acquittal, which was termed "amazing" by Judge Joel Sharp Thursday, came nine months after his coal truck hit the Saunders girl as she ran to board a school bus in front of her home on Feb. 9. He was charged with second degree manslaughter.

Jobless since the accident and in jail since the child's death on Sept. 14, Spiker, was penniless when released. His wife had only $2.

Found in Bus Terminal

Last night Youngstown police found Spiker, his attractive young wife and their children, Joe, aged 5; Kay, aged 4, and Patty, aged 2, sitting in the bus terminal and took the family to headquarters.

The quiet, balding Spiker told of his release from jail. His wife and family, wearing their only clothing, had come to Youngstown from Girard, where Mrs. Spiker had been working, to greet Spiker after his release.

Mrs. Spiker told how she and her children had lived at the place where she worked, and how she was menaced there by a drunken neighbor late Thursday afternoon. She took her children and fled back to Youngstown, where her husband was spending a fruitless few hours seeking relief from the Mahoning County Welfare agency. He said he was told that he'd have to establish a residence here before he could get relief.

Juvenile Judge Henry Beckenbach was informed of the situation and arranged for Mrs. Spiker and her children to stay at the juvenile home in Youngstown. Spiker stayed at the jail overnight. A member of the police force introduced him to an Ohio State Unemployment Service official to help him find a job and set his family on its feet.

Eichelberger Says Japs Must Be Ally

CLEVELAND, Nov. 11—(AP)—Gen. Robert L. Eichelberger said today that if Japan ever goes Communist it would "possibly signify a potential defeat in the Pacific in any future war that might be forced upon us."

In a speech before an Armistice day luncheon, the commander of allied forces in Japan after the war continued:

Sees Trouble
"One does not have to be a geopolitician to visualize the picture in the Far East if the Reds are permitted to extend their power over Siam, India, Malaya or Indo-China. Picture then the plight of the Philippines and Australia."

"But bad as that picture might seem to any school boy, it would be magnified many times if we permitted the Reds to extend domination over Japan."

Stressing the value of a friendly Japan, Eichelberger declared, "I would say that if trouble were to come in the Far East today, I for one, would want Japan on our side."

He added that "before allowing the Japanese to fall under Communist yoke, we should help them in every way possible to defend themselves."

150 Attend Lisbon Legion Banquet

Professor Speaks To Leornians

In considering "Child-Parent Relationships," Dr. A. D. Kitzmiller, psychology professor at Mount Union college, told members of the Leornians at the public library Wednesday evening that we oftentimes do not show proper understanding for natures similar to our own.

Mrs. Alfred Fitch introduced the speaker to the 24 Leornians and their 10 guests present.

Dr. Kitzmiller, who showed a deep knowledge of human nature, stressed several facts of importance in dealing with children. First of all, he said, "Make a child feel secure and loved." He declared that heart hunger is worse than food hunger.

To briefly outline the speaker's topic, he said not to use punishment and fear as a weapon; allow a child independence to "be on his own"; don't be too shocked at some of the things children do; be consistent; don't force children beyond their capacity; answer their questions, and respect them.

Favors Praise

Among the philosophies expressed by Dr. Kitzmiller is that of not making a child feel inferior. Praise is more valuable than criticism, he said. A question and answer period concluded the talk.

Another highlight of the busy meeting, conducted by Miss Helen Thorp, president, was the acceptance of a slate of officers for 1950-51.

These officers will take over at the beginning of the next season:

Mrs. Harry Loria, president; Mrs. Robert Middeker and Mrs. H. D. Harris, first and second vice presidents; Mrs. Dale Wilson, secretary; Mrs. Jane Votaw, treasurer, and Mrs. William Leuce, assistant secretary and treasurer.

Book Review Given Home Lodge Members

Mrs. Guy Byers' review of Billie Burke's book, "With a Feather on My Nose," proved highly entertaining to 135 people, Rebekahs and guests, Wednesday evening in the Memorial building.

The review, sponsored by Home lodge, Daughters of Rebekah, proved successful. Chairmen for the affair were Mrs. Frank Hoskins, Mrs. Phillip Rhodes and Mrs. Walter Albaugh.

In the story, which tells of the life of Billy Burke as the wife of the famous theatrical producer, Flo Ziegfeld, and of her own life as a chorus girl and stage and screen star, is told in humorous sequence. Other stars of their day, Marilyn Miller and Anna Held, also appear in Miss Burke's book.

The author's wit, both in the story and as she is in person, may be traced to the fact that her father was a well-known circus clown.

Besides the review, Mrs. Fred Sweitzer, Jr., sang a song from the opera, "Naughty Marietta," concluding with "Bless This House," and Donna Arnold, a youthful pianist, played the "Sabbath Dance."

Continuing their winter series of card parties, Home lodge will combine a nickel cafeteria and card party to begin at 6:30 p. m. Tuesday in I.O.O.F. hall. Mrs. Austin Getz and her committee will be in charge.

Theme of the program was "Building Through Use of Time, Talents and Treasure." "Love Gifts" brought to the meeting will go to help finance the Baptist Women's work.

Mrs. George Talbot offered a vocal solo, "I Heard A Forest Praying," with Mrs. Robert Hammett as the accompanist. Mrs. Clyde Williams, president, read a poem.

Two-Year Old Survives Car Mishap, Alone

Parents, Aunt And Uncle Killed As Boy Wails In Road

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, Nov. 11—(AP)—A two-year-old boy sat wailing in the middle of U. S. Route 40 yesterday.

He had only a bump on his knee.

But around him were scattered the bodies of his parents and—state highway patrolmen were inclined to believe—his aunt and uncle.

The highway patrol today still did not know the little boy's name; he still was much too frightened to tell them. And no adults who were riding in the car with him were alive.

It was a three-car accident. All the dead were passengers in a car with Texas license plates. The patrol tentatively identified the dead as:

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Neal Betts, of Borger, Tex.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Kingham, both 26, of the same address.

Cpl. G. D. Miller of the patrol said he thought the little boy was the son of the Betts couple. He added Mrs. Kingham probably was Betts' sister.

Cpl. Miller said the Texas car crashed into the rear of a car driven by John A. Sellers of Barnesville, O., then careened across the highway, upset and hit a car traveling in the opposite direction. The third auto was driven by Harry W. Taylor of Morristown, O.

The accident occurred near Hendrysburg, about 13 miles west of here.

Only Taylor, among six passengers in the other two cars, was injured. His knee struck the key in the ignition lock of his car. He suffered a slight abrasion.

The bodies of the victims were taken to the Campbell Funeral home in Barnesville.

The little boy, in police care until relatives are located, cried last night for his mother—and a toy, his little red truck.

Cpl. Miller returned to the wreckage and dug the toy out of the debris.

WINONA

There was a good attendance when the Winona branch of the Needlework Guild of America met at the Methodist church Monday evening for the annual meeting.

Robert H. Barton, probation officer was the guest speaker for this occasion. This was the twenty fifth year for the local branch, having been organized here in 1924.

Eleven directors make up the Winona organization. The officers are: President, Mrs. Donald Mayhew; vice president, Mrs. Willis Miller; secretary, Mrs. Sina Megrail; treasurer, Mrs. John Ewing.

More than 250 new garments collected from members this year, each member contributing two garments, which were placed in the local community chest and distributed where the need arises.

The Red Cross, Salvation Army, American Friend's Service committee, the County Welfare Department as well as local families have been the recipients of the garments distributed in past years by the local organization.

Mrs. Clyde Bennett opened the meeting with selections played on the organ. President Mrs. Mayhew presided. Rev. Sherman Brantingham led the devotions. James McDonald, Raymond Brandt, Jr., James Taylor, and Galen Brandt composed a quartet that sang "In The Garden," accompanied by Mrs. Bennett on the piano.

THE STARS SAY For Saturday, Nov. 12

AN EVENTFUL and exciting day, with much stirring in all relationships, in home, romance, business and finance is foreseen, calls for utmost discretion and tact, lest outstanding benefits be turned into "Dead Sea fruit." Rewards for fidelity, sound judgment, and worthy ambitions may be generous, bringing many pleasant and profitable contacts. Aim for such recognition but with discretion and a safe-guarding of funds and possessions.

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is, may look for a year of pleasure and profit, arising from application, good sense, lofty ambition and high spiritual aspirations. Shun all forms of speculation, extravagance, excess and dubious contacts with schemes, plots or entanglements. Certain hazardous tie-ups and their returns may be ample although intriguing and perhaps complicated. Keep on the safe side by passing up gambles and chance taking.

A child born on this day is splendidly equipped for success, position, pleasant and influential place in return for honest effort. It may be disposed to take long chances and lose its substance through entangling alliances.

School To Get New Lighting

Columbiana Group To Finance Work

COLUMBIANA, Nov. 11 — A project to install new lighting systems in the rooms of the old part of the High school building was adopted at a meeting of the Grade School Mothers club Wednesday evening.

Superintendent H. F. Richmond explained that a new transmission system extends from the source to every room, so that each may be improved separately as funds permit. Mrs. Andrew Schmidt will be chairman of a planning committee.

Plans are under way for the first fund-raising enterprise, which will be a school fair and carnival to be held Saturday, Feb. 11. It will consist of a display in class rooms of children's work, and concessions for booths to sell refreshments and novelties. Mrs. Regis Boring and Mrs. W. B. Davidson are the committee on the fair.

To Have Bank Account

It was decided to open a bank account in which funds for the project will be deposited to be used for that purpose only. The fund will be started with a donation of $5 from both the Brownie Scouts and the Grade Mothers' club.

Superintendent Richmond and Mrs. Louella Miller, cafeteria dietitian, spoke on waste in the first three grades and how it might be lessened. Richmond took the club and its guests on a tour of inspection of the new addition.

There were about 150 in attendance. During the serving of refreshments in the cafeteria, teachers mingled with club groups in a get-acquainted plan.

Mrs. Clyde Douglas was chairman of the refreshment committee. Mrs. Harry Toot, president of the club, presided for the business meeting.

Columbus Trip Saturday

Arrangements for the trip of the football squad and cheer leaders to Columbus Saturday to attend the O. S. U.-Illinois football game were completed at the December meeting of the Boosters club in Pavilion 12, Firestone park Wednesday evening.

Nine drivers will take the party of 41 to Columbus, leaving the High School at 7:30 a. m. Saturday.

The report of the nominating committee was deferred until the December meeting and the election of officers for 1950 will take place the same evening.

Dedication of the new addition to the High school building has been tentatively set for the first game of the basketball season Tuesday evening, Nov. 29, depending on whether the new gymnasium has been completed. School officials are in charge of arrangements.

President Earl Newell of the board of education has appointed Superintendent H. F. Richmond and two members of the board, Clyde Barrow and Everett Warrick, to serve as the committee. Brownie Troop 2, Girl Scouts, and their mothers will meet at the Methodist church, Monday evening at 7.

Music Club Meets

Mrs. H. C. Culp and Mrs. F. E. Griffin were hostesses to the Music Study club Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Culp, N. Main st. Mrs. Griffin, president of the club, presided.

Mrs. Louella Coblenz gave Federation news, and Mrs. Evan Roller gave a review of the first one-third of the book, "Impressions That Remained," by Ethel Smyth.

Musical numbers were: Vocal solo by Mrs. Robert Ross; piano solo, Miss Leona Ehrhart; vocal trio, Mrs. Griffin, Mrs. Virginia Felger and Mrs. Clarence Shontz, and a piano duet by Mrs. Charles Fisher and daughter, Linda. The hostesses served refreshments.

One of the finalists will be crowned queen Friday night at the annual Homecoming dance. The other five finalists will comprise her court at the Illinois-Ohio State football game Saturday in Ohio stadium.

LOUIS GROSS ENDS 16 YEARS confinement, for a murder authorities are now convinced he did not commit, with a wave of greeting to the outside world as he leaves Jackson, Mich., prison with Detective Seward Lusk and Dr. LeMoyn Snyder, state criminologist, on his left and Det. George Rose on his right. Gross, 49, was originally convicted of slaying Nortaba Agramham at Highland Park in 1933.

Vecek Denies Sale Of Tribe Again

CHICAGO, Nov. 11 — (AP) — "The Cleveland Indians have not been sold," President Bill Vecek said yesterday in issuing another periodic denial about a rumor which he says is tiring him.

Answering reports in Cleveland that the club's sale had been closed here, Vecek declared: "If there is a prospective buyer at the right price, a sale might be made and then again it might not. There have been no serious negotiations since last June."

Vecek admitted he was conferring yesterday with Bill De Witt, president of the St. Louis Browns, but added that they discussed player deals.

"I'm getting tired of these six or seven routine checks a day on the sale of the club," said Vecek. "This doesn't look like we sold the club, does it? We wouldn't be selling it to DeWitt, would we?"

De Witt reportedly has been trying to sell Third Baseman Bob Dillinger or Second Baseman Gerry Priddy for an undisclosed sum.

Vecek said he had not made De Witt any kind of an offer for any Browns.

D. G. Swanger, High school agriculture teacher, discussed the importance of the Japanese beetle in destruction of crops and vegetation of the country when he spoke at the Kiwanis club meeting Thursday noon at the Memorial building.

He told of the extensive program underway to control the damage of the beetle. He related how the beetle got a foothold on the east coast and has been working west until it is now causing serious damage in this area.

Perry McArtor, chairman of the Kiwanis agriculture committee, introduced the speaker. Two new members joined the organization at the meeting.

A 10-minute recording was played. It was a talk by Kiwanis international President Jackson on National Kids day. Set for Nov. 19, its purpose is to bring to the nation's attention the many underprivileged children of this country and what can be done to help them.

Youngstown Man Paroled After Term Reduction

Paroles Granted To Many Ohio Prisoners; Freed On Dec. 21

COLUMBUS, Nov. 11—(AP)—J. B. Dawson of Youngstown, who ran down and killed a man with his car in the spring of 1946, will be paroled from Ohio penitentiary Dec. 21.

His was one of 50 paroles granted yesterday by the Ohio Pardon and Parole commission. Twenty-eight of those granted paroles will leave the penitentiary before Christmas.

Dawson, father of nine children, entered the penitentiary May 10, 1946, to serve a life term for second degree murder. Gov. Frank J. Lausche last Oct. 6 reduced the charge to manslaughter, making Dawson eligible for a parole hearing.

Dawson was charged in the death of Pink Glasgow of Youngstown. Dawson had broken up an argument in front of his house and Glasgow, not in the argument, struck him, police said. Then Dawson got into his car and ran down Glasgow.

John Sword, 78-year-old Spanish-American war veteran of Jackson county, will be paroled next Feb. 1. He was sentenced to life in the penitentiary 10 years ago in the shotgun slaying of John Bowling, his landlord.

Harold Eveland, former Circleville justice of the peace serving from one to 10 years for embezzlement, will be paroled Dec. 21.

He entered the penitentiary July 9, 1948, after pleading guilty to a charge of using justice of the peace fees.

Those paroled and the crime of which they were convicted follow by counties (Release date Dec. 21 unless other noted):

Stark—Curtis Cauthorn, burglary (Feb. 1); George Curluter, operating a motor vehicle without the owner's consent and breaking and entering; Edmond Hill, cutting to wound.

Warren—Robert Lakes, cutting to wound.

Tuscarawas—Jack Reed, burglary, breaking and entering, and operating a motor vehicle without the owner's consent.

Mahoning—Thomas Dennis, breaking and entering.

Canfield Fair Income High

Improvements Being Made On Grounds

The total income of the 1949 Canfield fair was almost equal to the total receipts of the 1946 centennial fair, which lasted 10 days, Vernon Crouse, president of the Canfield fair board announced recently.

The cost of the new 4-H building, new electrical poles, lines, transformers, etc., the additional water lines installed on the grounds and other improvements completed last summer have been paid in full, Crouse said. A cash balance of several thousand dollars remains for use at the 1950 fair, he added.

Considerable maintenance work is being done on the grounds at present time, Crouse said. The more important of the new repairs, he said, include the painting of all steel roofs, reconditioning the floor in the former 4-H building, which was changed to an exhibition hall this year, and grading of a section of the southeast parking lot to increase parking facilities.

John Slipher, extension soil conservationist of the Ohio State university, will be one of the speakers at a meeting of Mahoning county farmers at the Canfield school at 8 p. m. Wednesday, Nov. 16. He will discuss co-operation among farmers in solving soil conservation problems.

James Pendry, district soil conservationist, will show pictures of soil erosion losses in Mahoning county and will discuss soil losses on farms and what some farmers are doing to offset them.

Eighteen Mahoning county farmers are cooperating with the county extension service in demonstrating soil conservation problems. These farmers are attempting to show how county farms can conserve soil and water and maintain fertility, while carrying on a profitable business. All farmers of the county are

Malaria Toll Annually High In America

New Book Reveals High Economic And Life Losses

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Reporter

NEW YORK, Nov. 11—About 4,000,000 Americans suffer from malaria each year, Dr. Leon J. Warshaw writes in a new book, Malaria, The Biography of a Killer (Rinehart & Co.).

The figure is an estimate, he says. Most of the cases occur in the Southeast and Gulf states, and some in parts of the Ohio river basin and California. Even today malaria occurs in 36 of the 48 states.

"Measured in terms of dollars and cents, the direct cost of malaria runs about $50,000,000 annually" in this country. "When all factors are considered, the total economic loss due to malaria would be about $500,000,000."

Most Prevalent

Worldwide, malaria is the most prevalent of all diseases, and is the biggest killer.

"It is generally agreed that throughout the world there are at least 300,000,000 persons who suffer from malaria each year and that, of these, not less than 3,000,000 die."

India alone has more than 1,000,000,000 deaths annually from this disease, caused by a parasite spread by certain mosquitoes.

No disease has had a more significant effect on world history, Dr. Warshaw adds.

Alexander The Great died of malaria even as he was preparing new campaigns, and his empire collapsed. Alaric, king of the Goths, conquered Rome but malaria killed him. Malarial mosquitoes struck down Popes of the Catholic church.

The disease has kept many tropical areas of the world undeveloped, or delayed their development. The French attempt to build the Panama canal failed partly because of the disastrous

AT A SPECIAL ceremony in Washington, Army Secretary Gordon Gray presents the Soldier's Medal to Sgt. Marvin O. Smith, Birmingham, Ala., for his heroic action at Egin Air Force Base in Florida. inroads of malaria and yellow fever.

Brought Here

It is generally agreed among medical historians that Europeans brought malaria to America, Dr. Warshaw says. Epidemics of malaria even hit New England colonists.

He adds, "there is more than a hint that the high mortality from malaria among the British troops may have been partially responsible for the surrender at Yorktown" in the Revolutionary war.

A doctor wrote that "in 1865, every man, woman and child in southern Illinois, at least within my range, shook with ague every day."

"Daily life in the west was often arranged to allow for the attacks of fever" or shakes, Dr. Warshaw says. The Civil war brought a new upsurge in epidemics. The Confederacy was particularly hard hit due to the difficulty in getting quinine.

Dr. Warshaw declares there is no room for complacency about malaria in the United States today.

"It is impossible to predict when a change in climatic conditions, even though temporary, may cause an explosive outbreak." And sometimes "the cause of an epidemic in a previously non-malarious area is the importation of the parasite by a newcomer from a malarious zone."

New Species

Also, he says, a new species of anopheles mosquito might be brought in by accident and spread the disease.

"One of the greatest achievements of World War II was the mounting of a powerful and coordinated offensive against malaria." This was done with old and new drugs, with DDT, drainage, and other measures.

With the weapons now at hand, malaria could be largely controlled throughout the world, Dr. Warshaw declares. It is more an economic, political and engineering problem than a medical one.

He expresses hope that "we have not too long to wait for that day when the nations of the world will recognize their joint responsibility to all mankind, and will join with unselfish energy in the fight against malaria."

CARELESS CAL! SO THE JUDGE SAYS, "THERE'S ONLY ONE SAFE PLACE TO PUT YOUR DRIVERS WHO CONTINUALLY PASS SCHOOL BUSES WHICH ARE LOADING OR UNLOADING CHILDREN."

Says Regular Prices Beat Parity System

ST. PAUL—A University of Minnesota farm economist believes farmers made more money under actual price conditions in the past few years than they could have done by following the parity formula planned to go into effect next year.

W. C. Waite said comparisons of income received from 18 principal agricultural commodities to the returns they possibly would bring under the new formula show a two per cent edge in favor of actual income for the period 1940-44.

Actual income increased steadily over parity during the next three years, with a high of 25 per cent above possibly

DEPARTMENT OF INFORMATION

You can rack up this Salem-Lisbon affair Saturday as one game, just like the Struthers affair, that Coach Ben Barrett is determined to win.

And to put it quite frankly, the reason for the ultra determination on the coach's part has very little to do with the fact that it's Lisbon Salem is playing.

About 50 Boosters learned that last night when the club met at the Memorial building. Ben, to lay it on the line bluntly, is irked. He has the disturbed sign out mainly because of some reactions from the loss at East Liverpool last week.

From what Ben told the Boosters last night, he's a bit on the needed side. He definitely objects to some comments he's heard about the East Liverpool game. He also intimated that he didn't like the game story in The News about the East Liverpool loss.

Whether or not the coach is justified is a point for discussion. We're inclined to go along with any coach disgruntled over a few disgruntled fans—for it's a rugged life when you lose a big one and it's hard to absorb a lot of needless abuse. This corner would never blame any mentor for blowing his stack once in a while. And it was heartening to see and hear Ben tell a few off.

But the East Liverpool thing is a past issue—and it can remain good and dead as far as we're concerned. No one was particularly to blame for anything, except perhaps the Potters, who were fired up and deserved to win.

But Ben's salient points to the Boosters last night indicated that he felt Saturday's fracas was going to be a rugged one, one that will require all the top talents Salem's gridders can turn out.

And, note this, the Salem mentor intends that his team will make a much better showing than it did last week against East Liverpool. Ben noted that at Potterstown the backs were not running hard. He pointed out, too, that a mental lapse occurred on the touchdown kickoff return, when all the Salem men were strategically misplaced and couldn't adjust themselves before it was too late and fleet little Bryson was gone.

Those things, Ben says, are not going to occur at Lisbon. He knows well that his team is a far better team than it looked last week. Virtually every other Salemite realizes that, too.

He's not sticking his neck out the window by saying Salem will win, but he's predicting that win, lose or draw, Lisbon will be playing a far better football team than represented Salem at East Liverpool.

After all, the Quakers had a bad night coming. Every team, good, bad or indifferent draws one a year and sometimes more.

As someone aptly put it at Boosters meeting last night, "This has been a pretty darned good football season in Salem and Salem has a pretty darned good team. The schedule has been tough but the team has measured up to its task in far better shape than most folks expected earlier in the year."

MORE INFO

Sticking to the Booster line, the club decided last night to contact by mail all 1948 Boosters who have not rejoined this year. . . . The idea is to boost the membership up around the 500 mark, perhaps over that. . . . It's a new scheme here and may work. . . . A lot of former members were not contacted this year and the memberships are relatively new, so if you're one of the neglected, don't be hurt, just send in the $2 and the membership card will come post haste.

Cliff Callahan, incidentally, is turning out to be a good rival for "Worrying" F. E. Cope. . . . Cliff is head man for the overall football banquet arrangements and he wants more tickets sold, but quick. . . . Get your's and you'll be saving Clifford a few gray hairs. . . .

Women are welcomed at the Monday, Nov. 21 affair, which, if plans develop as expected, promises to be one of the most novel events of its kind the local club has ever sponsored. . . . A running script, complete with many, many gags and guffaws, plus Eddie Finnigan (one of the best on any banquet circuit) will give you a fine evening's entertainment. . . . And novel souvenirs will be given all who attend. . . .

The Boosters nominating committee is hard at work lining up a top slate of officers for the club to choose at the election session next Thursday, when the Lisbon films will be shown. . . . A large turnout is hoped for that night when the election should offer some fine choices for the coming year's work. . . .

The club will attempt to take colored films of Saturday's game, if the weather is up to it. . . . Otherwise the usual black and white ones will be taken. . . .

Lakewood Drops Canton For Euclid High

CLEVELAND, Nov. 11—(AP)—Lakewood High school has dropped Canton McKinley from its 1950 football schedule.

Lakewood officials said today it was necessary because of McKinley's spring practice. Lakewood, which started playing McKinley in 1942, never has won a game from the Bulldogs.

The decision was reached at yesterday's meeting of the Lakewood athletic council. Last week, McKinley beat Lakewood, 39 to 13.

Euclid High school is expected to take Lakewood's place in Canton schedule.

Although Washington has played four times in the Rose Bowl, a 14-14 tie with Navy in 1924 is the best result the Huskies have been able to gain.

Lisbon Coach Has Injury List Out This Week

81,000 To See Bucks Meet Illini Saturday

Game Crucial To OSU In Rose Bowl Race; Janowicz Watched

COLUMBUS, Nov. 11—(AP)—

Today is Armistice day—but tomorrow brings up an all-out football war as Ohio State and Illinois battle before some 81,000 in the Big Buckeye horseshoe.

The winner stays on the Big Ten title trail and moves a notch nearer a Rose Bowl bid. The loser just about loses all chance at both the conference crown and the Pasadena pageant.

The Bucks have won three and lost one in the league, and have Michigan to play after the tiff with the Illini. The invaders have won three, lost one and tied one, and have Northwestern coming up.

Its Homecoming day for the Ohio grads, and the old-timers will be treated to a look at the running ability of the country's most publicized Sophomore—Vic Janowicz of Elyria. The northern Ohio flash, out since the Southern California game with injuries, will be turned loose on offense from both the left half and full-back spots against the Illini. Up to now his big chore has been on defense.

Ohio State, a 34-7 winner over Illinois last season, goes into the game a slight favorite. However, most of the talent smothered in 1948 by Ohio is now on the Illini defensive platoon, a batch of free-wheeling Sophomores have taken over the ball-lugging chores.

And they've done a hefty job of it, too. Assistant Coach Ernie Godfrey, of the Bucks, who has scouted three of the Illini games, says Ray Eliot's charges are the best rushing team he's seen in the conference in more than two decades. Sophomore John Karras, the ball-toting star, needs only 46 yards to break the conference rushing record of 669 yards set by Les Horvath during Ohio's unbeaten-untied 1944 campaign.

Only two of the holdover Illini proved good enough to hold their jobs on the Illinois offensive team. They are Guard Wayne Seigert and Quarterback Bernie Krueger. Four Juniors and three Sophomores will be on the starting offensive team for the invaders, who arrive by plane today.

The Illini squad operates from the "T" formation, and offers a wide open brand of ball, with the single wing as its basic offense, uses the "T" as a surprise maneuver at times.

The game winds up Ohio's at-home season, and the huge crowd is promised fair weather with the temperature around 68.

Janowicz moved into the offensive picture this week when fleet-footed Jerry Krall suffered an ankle injury in practice. Krall is expected to play, as is Jimmy Clark, another left halfback speedster, but the crowd will be watching Janowicz. The high school sensation has been used at fullback all season, and this is his first chance to carry the ball from the "springboard to fame" spot at left half.

Coach Wesley Fesler of the Bucks isn't letting that 4-7 victory of a year ago build his hopes to high. He recalls that the

Old Fearless Fraley First With All-American Team

By OSCAR FRALEY

NEW YORK, Nov. 11—(UP)—Comes the time of the year now to scrape the leaves off the lawn, order Christmas cards, wonder what to give the bride on Dec. 25, how to pay for it on Jan. 1—and time for Fearless Fraley's annual All-American football team.

Naturally, Old Fearless is there

Touch Playoffs Near Finality

Beavers To Battle Northern Stars

Millville Beavers, first round champs, will play the Western Stars in the Touch Football league at 2 p. m. Sunday at the Junior High practice field. The winner will tussle with The Salem News which received a bye for second round honors.

Should the Beavers defeat both teams, they will automatically become the league champion. But if one of the other two teams win, it will play the Beavers for the championship.

The fortunate News managed to win its first game by virtue of a forfeit and the bye did nothing to hurt its chances either.

Only one loss is allowed in the second round to eliminate a team.

Last Sunday's tilt between the Beavers and the Northern Stars was a favorite with the fans, who braved the somewhat chilly day to watch the two teams in action.

Held to a 6-2 halftime score, the power laden Beavers came roaring back with 20 points in the last half to win 26-11 and oust the Stars from second round playoffs.

With Ray "Goose" McGaffick hurling, the Beavers collected three TD's on passes, two to Harry Ehrhart and one to Harry Paxson and chalked up another when Ehrhart intercepted a Star pass, and galloped 40 yards for the tally.

The Star line gave the Beavers a lot of trouble in the first half, but the Beaver line tightened in the last half to permit McGaffick to get his game-winning aerials away.

Standouts for the Stars were Carl Gartner and "Red" Krauss, who charged like Sherman tanks to squelch the Beaver attack in the first half. Their efforts went to naught in the last half when the Beavers' receivers got behind the Stars' defense to roll to victory. Both Gartner and Krauss each collected a safety.

One of the most confusing, unrehearsed plays of the afternoon came on the last play of the game when the Stars scored their only TD.

Involving seven laterals, the play finally ended with Henry Miller running 30 yards to score. The fans couldn't understand what happened—neither could the Stars—but it added spice to a tough tussle.

The Sons of Italy and the Colonial Billiards both forfeited to the News and the Western Stars to be eliminated from the playoffs.

1948 Bucks mauled Pittsburgh 41 to 0, and then had to come from behind this year for a 14-10 win.

A year ago Illinois gained only 126 yards against Ohio, 46 via rushing and the rest through the air. But Eliot's lads have chewed up 2,041 yards on the ground in seven games this season, and will be out to boost that total against the Bucks.

ST. PAUL'S TO PLAY

The St. Paul's Junior High football team will tangle with Massillon St. Mary's at 2:30 p. m. Sunday at Centennial park. St. Paul's has a record of three wins and three losses.

"fastest," a line which I am told rhymes nicely with "worstest." But insults will get you nowhere.

For this, I have been assured, is the best possible team in 1949. That's the opinion of the experts who aided me, namely a coach of the Brooklyn roller derby team, an Irish seaman who listed rather heavily to port (or was it sherry?) and an itinerant Mexican bullfighter who professed deep interest in ice hockey.

There is no doubt, in what has smilingly been called my mind that my three assistants could do just as good a job as the California experts who pick unseen players from another section, or the Eastern guys with equal vices virtue.

Actually, no section has a right to feel insulted. My team may be dominated by sons of the mid-west, but there are three representatives from the East and one each from the South and the West. Having established the necessary consolation, here it is:

Fearless Fraley's 1949 All-American team:

Pos. Name School
LE—Bill Wightkin...Notre Dame
LT—Jim Martin...Notre Dame
LG—Paul Burns...Notre Dame
C—Walt Grothaus...Notre Dame
RG—Fred Wallner...Notre Dame
RT—Bob Tonneff...Notre Dame
RE—Leon Hart...Notre Dame
QB—Bob Williams...Notre Dame
LHB—Ernie Zaleski...Notre Dame
RHB—Larry Coutre...Notre Dame
FB—Emil Sitko...Notre Dame

If there seems to be a preponderance of Notre Dame players, it is strictly coincidental and anyone who wishes to sue is wasting his time.

Before this All-American foolishness reaches its daffy end, there will be screams for and placing by such outstanding players as:

Ends—Froggie Williams of Rice, Harry Allis of Michigan, Dan Foldberg of Army and Art Weinert of North Carolina; Tackles—Leo Nomellini of Minnesota and nine thousand others; Guards—Harry Barkouskie of Pitt, Rod Franz of California and assorted other dozens, along with such Centers as Minnesota's Clay Tonnemaker, California's Les Richter, Missouri's Bob Fuchs, SMU's Dick Hightower, and Clemson's Gene Moore.

There will be peans of praise for such backs as Army's Arnold North Carolina's Galiffa, Cal's Bob Celeri, SMU's Doak Walker, Dartmouth's Johnny Clayton, North Carolina's Charley Justice, SMU's Kyle Rote, Michigan State's Lynn Charnois, Michigan's Charley Ortmann, Oklahoma's George Thomas and at least one from every other team in the business.

But for an All-American "team," Old Fearless has got to go with the battling Celtiks. Confirmation may be obtained from such spots as Bloomington and Lafayette, Ind., Seattle, Wash., New Orleans, Annapolis, Md., and East Lansing, Mich., where are located such victims as Indiana, Purdue, Washington, Tulane, Navy and Michigan State.

It's a team which has gone to the post 34 times without once getting belted out of the lot. It's an All-American "team" which will take a lot of beating.

Ohio State Named Winner By Claassen

Writers Sees Results Of Saturday's Games; Irish A Cinch

By HAROLD CLAASSEN

NEW YORK, Nov. 11—(AP)—Another whirl on the football merry-go-round after having forecast correctly 63 winners in 76 games last week for an average of .835.

That made the season's figures: 406 winners, 100 misses and an average of .802.

Notre Dame over North Carolina: Those ancient "Eastern" rivals will jam Yankee stadium for their 1949 meeting, which could become a massacre if Charlie Justice isn't at his best. North Carolina will need his punting. If Justice's ankle injury hinders his kicking the Irish could win by four touchdowns.

Ohio State over Illinois: The victor of this one is in position to start studying railroad timetables to California and the Rose Bowl. Illini Halfback John Karras needs only 46 more yards gained rushing to set a record. He'll probably get his mark but the Buckeyes should get the greater score.

Army over Penn: If Pitt and Virginia can do it, certainly the Cadets can, too.

Oklahoma over Missouri: Betting commissioners in the East make Oklahoma a 14-point favorite. It is quite probable that a point after touchdown will decide.

Other selections:

Cornell over Dartmouth; California over Oregon; Tulane over Vanderbilt; Princeton over Yale; Louisiana State over Mississippi State; Maryland over Boston University; Alabama over Georgia Tech; College of Pacific over Utah; Rice over Texas A. & M.; Michigan State over Oregon State; Youngstown over Muhlenberg.

Navy over Columbia, Brown over Harvard, Minnesota over Pittsburgh, Syracuse over Holy Cross, Fordham over Boston College, Penn State over Temple, Rutgers over WYU, Scranton over Lebanon Valley, West Virginia over Texas Western, Michigan over Indiana, Northwestern over Colgate, Purdue over Marquette.

Iowa over Wisconsin, Iowa State over Nebraska, Oklahoma A. & M. over Kansas State, Miami (Ohio) over Dayton, Ohio University over Butler, Ohio Wesleyan over Washington & Jefferson, Xavier over Cincinnati, Western Reserve over Western Michigan, Case over Denison, Kent State over Akron, Clemson over Duquesne.

George over Auburn, Kentucky over Florida, Duke over George Washington, VMI over The Citadel, Tennessee over Mississippi, Wake Forest over North Carolina State, Southern Methodist over Arkansas, Texas over Texas Christian, Baylor over Wyoming, Stanford over Idaho, UL CA over Washington, Detroit over St. Louis, Santa Clara over St. Mary's, Canisius over John Carroll.

Bucher Says All Will Play, But Effectiveness Doubtful

Half of Salem will be in Lisbon tomorrow afternoon to watch what may well turn out to be one of the tightest football games of the 1949 season.

Salem High school's Quakers, smarting from a 35-14 set-back by the East Liverpool Potters, are rarin' to go against Bud Bucher's Lisbon Blue Devils, losers only to Boardman and tough Louisville this year.

Bucher has the injury list out, and if he's not kidding, it looks rather impressive.

The Lisbon coach says his team is "all bruised and beaten up." He says Dick James, halfback ace, has been out since the Louisville game and to make it worse turned an ankle in Tuesday's workouts.

Warren Gurski, co-captain and guard, has a bad ankle. His understudy, Charles Zellers is definitely out and probably won't play at all because of an ankle injury.

Everet Lambert, offensive tackle, has a dislocated shoulder, suffered in the Columbiana game. It's his third similar injury this season. Dean Rose, James' understudy, also is afflicted with a bad ankle.

The Lisbon mentor says "all will play, but I don't know how long or how well."

Salem's crew is in pretty good shape, Ben Barrett relates. He says the team is expected to show great improvement this week over a rather poor showing at East Liverpool. Barrett figures his boys are due for a rebound and expects sharper tactics throughout.

Changes may be made in Salem's starting lineup, the coach says. For one thing Bruce Fredericks may get the fullback spot, shifting from guard to increase the blocking power in the backfield. Walt Wisler will find Bob Muhleman's tackle position on offense with Dean Votaw doing the defensive work there. Muhleman, too, will see action.

At the vacated guard position, Barrett probably will insert Bill Pasco, who has been getting most of the work anyway.

Other than that, Coach Ben figures the crew will remain about the same.

Lisbon's lineup will be about as it has been all year.

In his backfield tomorrow Bucher expects to start Dick Cornelli, 150-pound Senior, at quarter, Veteran Dick James, a 170-pound Senior, at fullback, and 130-pound Tom Pile, a Senior, and John Elbert, a Senior at 142 pounds, at right and left halves, respectively.

The Lisbon line will be big. At ends will be Henry Seifke, 165-pound Junior, and Don Ward, 165-pound Junior, left and right respectively.

Tackles include 205-pound Tom Pekarchick, a Junior, at right and Warren "Bronco" Gurski, 190-pound hunk of Senior.

Guards are 175-pound Tring Hiscok, a Senior, and Don Sail, 177-pound Junior.

Gerry Pike, a 155-pound Junior, or Jack DeSelle, a 165-pounder and a Junior, will get the nod at center, Bucher says.

Bucher also figures on a lot of play from Sophomore Dean Rose, 175-pound back and Clayton Brown, a Freshman who weighs 180. End Bill Hough, a Sophomore at 150, also will see action, he says.

Let's Eat

By GAYNOR MADDOX

Fish, fresh or quick frozen, is steadily gaining popularity on American tables. But careful cooking is a must for all fish.

Poaching is one of the best ways. Let's listen to James Beard, author of the attractive and informative new "The Fireside Cook Book" on the subject. He's an ace with victuals.

Wrap fish in cheesecloth and tie the ends or loop them so that it will be easier to lift the cooked fish out of the pan and unroll it onto a plate or platter.

The fish is brought just to the boil in either salt water or a court-bouillon, then simmered very gently until cooked. Ideal for certain fish, notably salmon, which may then be served either hot or cold. Use strained court-bouillon as the base of a sauce or as an aspic.

Overcooking can ruin good fish. The flesh should be flaky and firm, never mushy.

In poaching fillets or small pieces of fish, allow about 1 minute per ounce. Test with a toothpick.

Court-Bouillon

Trimmings of fish (head, fins, bones, etc.), 1 cup red of white wine or 1/4 cup wine vinegar, 2 quarts water, 1 medium onion stuck with 2 cloves, 6 peppercorns, 1/2 bay leaf, 1 1/4 tablespoons salt, 2 sprigs parsley, pinch of thyme.

Obtain extra trimmings, if needed, at the fish dealer's. Cover fish pieces with water and add wine or wine vinegar, onion, peppercorns, bay leaf, salt, parsley and thyme. Simmer 20 minutes. Strain and set aside until ready to use for the fish.

Baked Fillets, Pioneer Style (Serves 4)

Two medium onions, 4 tablespoons butter, salt, 4 fish fillets, olive oil, pepper, 1/2 cup buttered crumbs, chopped parsley, crumbled crisp bacon.

Slice onions very thin. Sauté in butter until just transparent. Salt to taste. Oil a shallow baking dish with olive oil. Arrange fillets on baking dish and sprinkle with the sautéed onions and sprinkle with buttered crumbs. Bake in a hot oven (400 degrees F.) 12 to 15 minutes or until fish is cooked. Sprinkle with parsley and bacon. Serve at once.

So They Say

I think we must ruthlessly eliminate anyone from the National Military Establishment who does not believe in unification, and will not accept decisions to unify when they are made.

—Gen. Mark Clark, chief of Army field forces.

The 81st Congress differs from his (Truman's) philosophy just as much as did the 80th.

—Sen. Robert A. Taft (R., Ohio).

A strong, vigorous year-around organization, based on the precincts, is the only formula I know for political success.

—Guy Gabrielson, Republican national chairman.

I don't want a bunch of yes-men around me. If you don't agree with me, I want you to say so—even if it costs you your job.

—Mike Curtiz, Hollywood director.

Russia never tells in advance what it is going to do.

—Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky.
